

Company Commitment

The House of Portraits was established in 1975 and has been photographing schools since 1978. We are committed to the highest quality school portraits in the surrounding areas. We strive to ensure that every detail of your school portraits will be handled with care. Your experience with us will always be a pleasant one. Customer service is where we excel and we strive to give you the best in the industry. School portraits can be so easy. We take care of everything in a prompt and professional manner. The House of Portraits' goal has always been to become a household name by taking care of each client like they were our only one. We know you will notice the difference the moment you entrust your photo memories to the best photographers in the State of California.

Sincerely,

Greg Adams, President
